

About PJ Van Hulle

PJ Van Hulle works with coaches, consultants and speakers who love what they do but get frustrated with the marketing part.

A few years ago, she thought she had it made. Starting with $10,000 of her own money, PJ acquired over $6,000,000 in real estate, created a 6 figure seminar company, and was on track to be able to retire by the time she was 31.

Then the real estate market crashed, and everything changed.

Suddenly, her credit was ruined, she lost her home to foreclosure, and she was forced to declare bankruptcy. After seeing her empire crumble, PJ realized that MAKING money and KEEPING money were two entirely different skill sets.

By focusing her energy on helping other people avoid the financial challenges she had experienced, PJ was able to turn her company around and take her sales to double what they were before the real estate crash.

She is now more passionate than ever about providing people with the financial education they never received in school.

PJ is a certified trainer with 13 years of teaching experience, the author of the Little Book of Prosperity and co-author of Making Your Connections Count.

She now leads seminars, workshops, and retreats and speaks all over the world, supporting entrepreneurs to live out of freedom and joy instead of debt and obligation.

Her dynamic, interactive and "plain English" style of teaching has helped thousands of coaches, consultants and speakers to attract more clients and to improve their relationships with money.

Here's What People Are Saying About PJ:

"PJ is a dynamic speaker who will knock your socks off. She'll give you valuable content that will totally blow you away."

Sharla Jacobs, Award-Winning 6-Figure Success Coach, Rejuvenate Training, Inc.

"The fear of finances has been released. I received grounded practical tools, solutions, systems to take my business to the next level. I've increased my sales conversion by 30% in 2 months... thank you PJ!"

Richard Allen, Chiropractor

"I've seen a ton of speakers, and a lot of people that have great knowledge and great content yet who are not really dynamic, if you want someone who's got great content, is also going to make the entire room swoon, you've got to book PJ for your next event...she's fun, funny, informative and compelling, everything you want in a speaker, Book PJ now!"

Marshall Sylver, The Millionaire Maker, Sylver Enterprises

To Book PJ to Speak at Your Event Contact:

info@realprosperityinc.com